Lab exercise
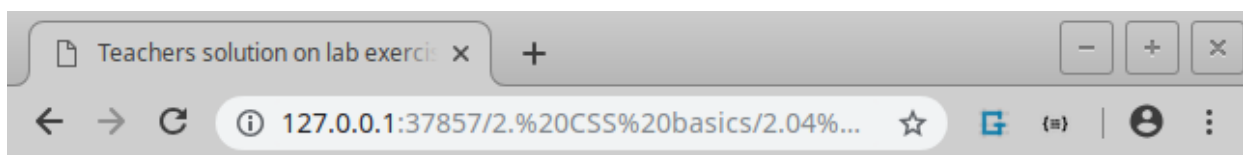

1. Identify the different parts of this style rule:

   .p__style {
          color: red;
   }

   What is the selector? What is the value? What is the property? What is the declaration ?

2. Go to the start folder and open the index.html. I have written some comments in this document, telling you what to do. You must make the text appear like this:
